Do's & Don't / Philosophy

- Highly recommend to first gain experience in India as this experience will give you upper hand in your studies, in interviews and finally in getting the PR.
- Try to attend meetups as much as you can.
- Choose your course wisely if you are planning for higher studies in Canada/USA.

Differences:

While both Canada and USA are great places to be at, both places has it's pros and cons.

Canada makes it easier for immigrants to settle in. At a minimum of 3.5 to 5 years period, you can get a PR (Permanent Residence) permit and it is based on your skill set & experience points.

For USA the visa structure is complicated and it is based on luck. And even if it plays out well, it will take at a minimum of 7 to 10 years to get your PR.

However, in terms of rewards USA based companies pays better salaries compared to Canada & for CE/IT a lot of tech giants are headquartered in USA.
